

Economics Reset
Billy Crone
L&L Great Reset Conference
October 16-17, 2021

Billy Crone: All right, check this out. How many of you guys are married? How many of you guys are married, and you didn't raise your hand? You're already in trouble. I'm here for you. But anyway, watch this, check this out. This woman, she dies, right? And of course, you die, you stand before the pearly gates. And for some reason, when you get before the Pearly Gates, who do you always meet? St. Peter. I don't know why, it just works out that way. So she's there, here comes St. Peter, and so she asks him, she goes, "Oh, Peter," she says, "This place. Is it really what I think it is? I mean, it's beautiful. Did I really make it to Heaven?" And to which St. Peter, he replied, "Well, yes, dear, this is the gates of heaven. But you must do one more thing before you can enter." And so the woman, she's all excited. And she goes to Peter and said, "Well, okay, what do I got to do to pass through the gates?"

And so, Peter says, "Spell a word." She goes, "Well, what word?" And Peter says, "Any word. It's your choice." And so the woman replies, "Okay, the word I will spell is love. L-O-V-E." And so Peter, he congratulates her on her good fortune, making it to Heaven and all, and asked her, "Hey, if she wouldn't mind taking his place to the gates for a few minutes while he went to the bathroom." Well, so, hey, it happens apparently. And so she said, "Well, hey, I'd be honored. But hey, wait a second. What do I do if somebody comes to the gates while you're gone? He said, "Oh, hey, no problem." He reassures her and says, and instructs her to say, "Hey, listen, just simply have any newcomer to the pearly gates just spell a word," just like she did. And so the woman she's left there sitting in St. Peter's chair and all, and watching the beautiful angels flying around, soaring around her and, and lo behold, a man approaches the gate there and she can't believe her eyes. It's her husband.

And she goes, "What happened? Why are you here?" And her husband stared at her for a moment and says, "I was so upset when I left your funeral, and I got into a car accident, and now I'm here. Did I really make it to heaven?" And she goes, "No, no, no." She says, "Not yet. You must spell a word first." So the husband says, "What word?" And the woman said, "Czechoslovakia." And you laughed at that. Oh, wow.

How many of you guys would say you seem like discerning Christians early in the morning? How many guys would say that marriage probably didn't end on a very good note back on earth? Czechoslovakia kind of gives it away. I actually had to spell check that. But anyway, that's right.

But seriously folks did you know the bulk of our planet's relationship with God is also, unfortunately, not going to end on a very good note? And you know why? Because right now, today, they're rejecting Jesus Christ as our Lord and Savior. So, they are flirting with being left behind at the Rapture of the Church and being thrust into the seven year Tribulation. It is not a joke. And I'm telling you folks, one of the biggest signs right before our very eyes is this thing that's going on right now in our world, all across the world. And that's this Great Reset aspect. And so far in our conference, we've already seen if you're here last night, what the Great Reset is. And then we saw the technology and the culture of the Great Reset. So, my question today is, do they have the economics to pull it off?

Now, unfortunately, the answer is not only yes as we're going to see in great detail, but believe it or not, we were warned about this coming in the Bible nearly 2,000 years ago. But as always, don't take my word for it. Let's listen to God's. Open your Bibles to Revelation 13. Revelation 13.

And we're going to take a look at what is the Antichrist and the false prophet going to do? And does this have anything with what's going on right now, this thing called the Great Reset? Okay, Revelation 13, we're going to read versus 11 through 17. And if you find the dictionary, what do you do? Hang a left. That's right. But let's go ahead and stand as we read God's Holy Word. Revelation 13, verse 11 through 17.

The beast out of the earth. You got the false prophet. And you got the Antichrist. Let's take a look at what they're going to be doing in the seven year Tribulation. But this is what the Scripture says. Then I saw another beast coming out the earth, he had two horns, like a lamb, but he spoke like a dragon. The dragon is defined as Satan in the text. So this is a false prophet. He too, like the Antichrist is inspired by Satan himself. And he exercised all the authority of the first beast, the Antichrist, on his behalf. And he made the earth, and its inhabitants worship the first beast whose fatal wound had been healed. And then he performed these great miraculous signs, even causing fire to come down from Heaven to earth in full view of man. And because of these signs, he was given power to do on behalf of the first beast, the Antichrist.

He deceived the inhabitants of the earth and he ordered them to set up an image and honor the beast who was wounded by the sword and yet lived. And he was given power to give breath to the image of the first beast so that it could speak and cause all who refused to worship the image to be killed. And here you go. And he also forced how many? Everyone. Every aspect of society. The context is global. He forced everyone around the planet and he breaks it down there into categories. Small and great, rich and poor, free, enslaved to receive a what? A mark. On his specifically where? Right hand or forehead. Aren't you glad we see no signs of people being interconnected with their body parts for making payment? It's called biometrics. Bible calls it Mark of the Beast. We're being warmed up for this.

But anyway, he received a mark on his right hand or his forehead. Why? So that no one, how many? No one on a global basis could buy or sell unless he had the mark, which is the name of the beast or the number of his name. You may be seated.

But the Bible's very clear folks. If you're not familiar with this passage, I hope you are. But just in case you're not, the Bible says there really is going to come a day in the seven year Tribulation, when all the earth, all the inhabitants of the earth are going to be under the universal economy or the Antichrist monetary system. It says it right there. This guy in cohorts with the false prophet, the false religious leader. I wonder who that's going to be?

Did you say it rhymes with the Pope? I don't know who it is. Right. But hey, if it ain't the Pope, he's trying real hard to get the job. But anyway, that's right. But anyway, that's another subject. But anyway. But I'm not predicting who that is. But anyway, but he's going to be working with the Antichrist, this false religious leader. They're going to control literally all the buying and selling, the whole economy, all the transactions on the planet. And it isn't just they're going to be doing that. What's it say? This is going to be a, listen, a satanically inspired system. And you don't want to be a part of it. And realize it, that folks are not, this is what is happening. The groundwork is being laid with this thing called the Great Reset. That's what it's all about.

They can call it the Great Reset, but it really is them building this global economy to merge into this Mark of the Beast system we just read. In fact, every time you see, and I encourage you, and when you see this phrase, Great Reset, hear it, translate it for this, the rise of the Antichrist kingdom, because that's what's going on. Very plainly. But let's go specifically to this universal economy, they control the buying and selling. Do these guys, it's obvious that this is what they're planning to do, but are they really that close to pulling it off? Yeah. And we're going to see that in three different ways. And not coming folks, the first way we know they're ready to pull this off, this Mark of the Beast system is the machinery is already in place. Not 50 years down the road. It is already in place.

These guys have been working for decades and it's now come to fruition. Total absolute economic control of the whole planet. In fact, folks, if you think about it, we take it for granted. All of our economies right now are interconnected globally. Used to be we were completely independent. Hey, who cares what happens to Russia or the gas prices over there, or the economy of Japan or China, whatever. Not anymore. What we do affects the world, what the world does affects us. It's already interconnected. It's not coming, it's already done.

And not just that, how we're already connected economically and dependent upon each other, and they force us to have to work together. But they've laid the machinery in place to control literally the whole world's economy. Revelation 13. Let me demonstrate that to you. We already have, not coming. We already have a universal bank. It's been in place for quite some time called the World Bank. Hello? What bank? World Bank. I mean, it's pretty obvious, right? Which is the world's leader of lending money to nations around the planet.

But wait a second. If you're going to have a universal bank, then you need a universal lending institution to disperse those loans, right? Well folks, what do you think the function of this thing is? If you've ever heard of it, it's been in a function for a while. It's called the International Monetary Fund, which they oversee the world's financial system. They even fixed the exchange rate. And so that's already in place.

But wait a second. If you're going to have a universal lending institution, then you need to have some sort of a universal money exchanger to funnel all this money to the different countries, right? Well folks, what do you think we have this? It's called SWIFT. It's a universal banking system, been in place for in time, which automatically makes sure that all the different money transactions match all the different world's currency.

Well, Wait a second. If you have all that in place, you got this universal money exchanger, but what about those people who don't listen to the world bank, or the IMF, or they don't pay their loans on time? You need some sort of a universal strong arm to punish those who don't obey your world banking system. Well, folks, what do you think this thing's in place for? It's been in place for a long time. The what? World Trade Organization. It's been in place. And these guys, they not only set the trading rules for the world, but they punish people who do not obey their rules with billion dollar fines, including the United States of America.

In fact, if you just saw the news recently, what did Biden just say? We're working with the WTO, Because they're a part of the system. But here's my point. The machinery for this global, connected system, Revelation 13, it's already here. It's not coming. It's already here. It's already been here for a while. In fact, if you've been paying attention, what they did to further connect us is with all these treaties all over the world. The treaties were designed to interconnect all our planet and tie them in together. Let me give you the trail on that one.

The first big major treaty to tie us all together economically was this one called GATT. And this was in 1944, general agreement on tariffs and trade. And it was to quote "help liberalize world trade". Well, you can call liberalize all you want, but basically it was to start to tie the countries together economically. That was back in 1944. Then 50 years later we had the other big major one. And that was NAFTA. Turn to somebody and say, "Thank you, Bill Clinton."

And NAFTA was the North American Free Trade Agreement. And here's where it begins to speed up. Ten years after that in 2004, they came out with what was called CAFTA, the Central American Free Trade Agreement combining Central American countries. And then the very next year, boy, they just came out with another one was called the F.T.A.A., or the Free Trade Agreement of the Americas, which listen, proposes to encompass the whole Western hemisphere in all their economies. And then it began to go nuts all over the world and tie literally every country together.

First there was the AFTA, the Asian Free Trade Agreement. There was APTA, the Asian Pacific Trade Agreement. There was SICA, the Central American Integration System. The other ones are proposed are the CEPTA, the Central European Trade Agreement, COMESA, the Common Market for Eastern and Southern Africa. GAFTA, the Greater Arab Free Trade Agreement. SAFTA, the South Asia Free Trade Agreement. And even TAFTA, the Trans-Atlantic Free Trade Agreement. And on and on and on it goes.

And the latest one to just put the nail in the coffin to make sure that everybody's all tied together so you can control the whole thing was the big one, TPP Treaty. Have you heard in the news? Now the big reason about that was, this is what Clinton and Obama were pushing us headlong into. And Mr. Interrupter, code word for Trump, messed it up. He pulled out of this, and they freaked out, and that added yet another reason why they wanted him out of office. He's messing up their Great Reset. And that's on tape, folks. You need to go check that out.

But this TPP encompasses 12 nations of the Pacific, including Australia, Brunei, Canada, Chile, Japan, Malaysia, Mexico, New Zealand, Peru, Singapore, Vietnam, and the United States. But as you can see, they not only have the machinery all already in place, World Bank, IMF loan, the WTO to punish you if you don't obey. But all these treaties they've been working on for 70 years, folks. We're all interconnected. We can't escape it. We're interconnected. Our economy lives and dies on other people's economies and vice versa. And that's exactly what they want. And not just what they want, that's what you need if you're going to be begin to control all the economies on the planet. The machinery is already here.

But not only that, you got to do the second thing. And unfortunately, that's worked all too well. And that is simply this, the mindset is in place. Now the whole time while they're doing this, they got to get rid of national sovereignty, not just around the world, but certainly in the United States. They got to get rid of this think local. They want you to think global. They're brainwashing people. They don't want you to be patriotic. They don't want you to, "I'm American and whatever the rest of you guys do, that's on you." No, they have to get rid of that.

And so, at the same time they've been building this machinery and all these treaties, they've hijacked the media, taking that over, and the school system. And man, they are brainwashing people to go along with this. To where, listen, they are getting people, whole new generations, as Nathan brought out last night, from the millennials on down, that they like this system. In fact, this is their phrase that they use, the Great Reset, where they are conditioning people right now, brainwashing them that, listen, they are going to control every aspect of our lives. In fact, one of their monikers is this, that they will own everything, you'll own nothing, but you'll be happy about it.

I won't. But we're going to see it in our school system and the media folks, the average Joe, millennium on down, they think this is fantastic. And they could give a rip about national sovereignty. But this is their thing. This is what they want to do. You'll own nothing and be happy. You got to be kidding me. And it's not just owning things. This is what these guys want to do. They want to literally dictate everything we do. Where we get to live, how we get to live, who we get to marry, how many kids we can have, what education. The elites are going to control everything. They're going to create wonderful control utopia. And we're going to be happy.

No. No, we're not. It's the Antichrist kingdom. But again, now what they're doing to that, they've not only taken control of the media, they've not only taken control of the educational system to brainwash people, but they've spun it into a new religion. Right? Into a new religion. Because the reason why, the reason why we've got to do this, we've got to allow these elites to control everything we do, buying and selling and literally everything we do on the planet is because the planet's going to blow up. Haven't you heard, climate change? This is the dumbest thing ever in the universe. Are you kidding me?

How many guys realized that the climate changed from last night? You know what? And you know why they picked that term? Because they used to say global warming, but they caught with what? It's not warming. So they had to pick something innocuous, climate change, climate change. Well, yeah, duh. It changes every day. But it's the environmental, we got to save the planet. We got to bond together. We got to allow these elites to help save us. So we've all got to work together. We got to lay down national sovereignty. We got to just put our differences aside, even religions. We got to just come together and save the planet. And this is how we're going to do it, by allowing these guys to own everything and we'll be happy. They've made it into a religion, the environmental movement.

And I don't know if you've ever met those folks. I remember when I was pastoring in California, which was challenging enough, let's go Brandon. But yeah, and it probably won't be the last time this weekend we're going to say that to you. But that guy online started it. Sorry. But I remember I had some ministry friends visiting from Oregon to our house. And we got done to eating and we had some pop. Well, all right, hold on. We're going to cause a church split. How many guys say pop? Praise God, those people are righteous who raise their hands. How many guys say soda? I mean soda. That's what you bake stuff with. What are you talking about?

Anyway, so we got done serving some pop in these cans. So I kid you not, man. I took the pop cans. I was just being the host, took their plates and took their pop cans, threw them in there. And you would've thought I called their grandmother ugly. I mean, it was just like, I didn't recycle it. I mean, they literally went nuts. "You don't recycle?" And based on the response, I was like, "I'll never recycle now." But these are even Christians. It's even Christians who are like, "Oh, we got to work together. Save the planet." It's brainwashing. "We're all going to band together and lay down national sovereignty, or the planet is going to blow up." And as Pastor Brandon mentioned, the cows are going to blow up and those gas bags. "And we can't have that. So let these elites take control."

And this is what they've been doing. Now, believe it or not, they've been putting that religious, environmental, let's all save the planet together for a long time. It's all part of brainwashing. And it's all part of control. And we've allowed them to take control, even of our own land here in the United States of America. Now, I don't know if you guys ever heard this, this has been in place for quite some time, it's called the World Heritage Protection Program. In order to save the supposed endangered species on planet earth, the UN right now, whether you realize this or not, the UN right now has full authority over millions of acres here in the United States of America. We don't own it. The UN does.

And such things as Yellowstone National Park, the Statue of Liberty, the Grand Canyon, Yosemite Valley. That's not ours anymore. It's been handed over to the UN. And then in order to protect our supposed endangered food supply, guess what they got? The World Food Summit. I'm telling you, folks, it's more than just the economy. Everything about our lives these guys are going to dictate, including the food supply. And the World Food Summit, listen, continues to meet every year to govern what crops we can grow, what livestock we can raise, and what we get to eat.

And again, in order to preserve our supposed endangered air and land water supply, again, because they wanted to control it all. They had a program out called Agenda 21, and basically as Pastor Brandon brought out again last night, this Great Reset has been called by many different names. They've been working on this for a long time. They just changed the names. Agenda 21 is what it used to be basically called. And their goal was originally for the beginning of the 21st century. Well, they didn't make that. And so, they just changed the name, reset the date and things of that nature.

But if you aren't familiar with Agenda 21, I want to demonstrate to you what they want to do. This is the same goals of the Great Reset. But this has been around for a while. These guys have been working on it, brainwashing people to go along and it's a religion now, we got to do this and save the planet. Well, let me give you some aspects of this thing called the Agenda 21.

If you were to hear in the very near future that the United States would have, listen, no private property, no air conditioning, no dams, no paved roads, no way to correct rivers for flood control. Because y'all got to let it go back to nature, right? And men get ready for this, no golf courses. Hey, every one of these is their plan. No pasture land used for grazing. Would you believe it? Well folks, guess what? That's what's going on right now. It's been going on for a long time. They just changed the name. United Nations program called Agenda 21.

In fact, pretty soon they're saying, "Listen, we're even going to control how many kids you can have just like China in the United States of America." This is their commercial. Watch this.

Video

Narrator: We have only one Earth. Our living planet that helps sustain life. We are warned. This life system is in crisis. Fresh water, clean air, good soil. The things we need to stay alive are being destroyed. Sustaining the environment is something we all have a vested interest in. After all, who wants to pollute the water or the land?

Narrator: Let's look at the Chinese communist government and its one child policy. Just like marriage in China, there are numerous hurdles to overcome before permission is granted. For a Chinese couple to have a child, they have to get a birth license. In order for the couple to get a license, they have to go through a procedure that runs through local communist party functionaries. Without a birth license, no hospital or doctor can treat the mother or the child before, during or after the birth.

The Chinese are required to inform the authorities of any illegal birth. In short, the Chinese government is in complete control. Since China is one of the five permanent members of the UN security council, it has a great deal of influence on UN policy and how they view population control. China's one child policy is now being considered as a viable solution towards sustainable development. The PCSD shows their support of this very idea in their 1998 publication, Sustainable America. We must move towards stabilization of the US population and a reduced rate of population growth in the United States and the world.

Billy Crone: So, it's coming here. And you think that the current administration that was bought and paid for by China, is going to not work with that system? It's been in the works for a long time. They're just waiting for the right trigger moment to begin to switch. Was that freaky or what? You have to get permission from the government to have a baby. If you try to do it illegally, they cannot treat you before and after the birth. You're being denied medical assistance. Good thing we don't see any signs of that happening right now. It's happening over the vaccine issue. So the mindsets already here, folks. But this thing's been in place for a long time. They just changed the name from Agenda 21 to the Great Reset.

But that's not all. Here's a list of even more so-called, what they call unsustainable things. In other words, we've got to get rid of these in order to save the planet, sacrifice along with us. It isn't just those cows with those giant gas bags. Here's also what we're going to have to give up. According to them. We got to give up ski runs. You just can't do that. It's not good for the livestock. Grazing livestock. Again, they want to control the meat supply, and your food supply for making you weak, as Pastor Brandon said. Disturbing the soil surface, plowing of soil. You can't do any planting yourself, farming. They're going to take care of that. Building fences. We got to go back to nature, the wild. Commercial agriculture and modern farm production. No, no, no, they're going to take care of that. We can't even ramp it up on a scale.

Chemical fertilizer because that's destroying the planet. Well, yeah, it gets rid of the bugs. Doesn't that bug you guys? Bugs me. But let's move on. The use of fossil fuels. Is that under attack right now? Yeah. They want to switch to electric. You know why? Because electric can be controlled. Electric also limits how far you can travel, which is another form of control. Any industrial activity, single family homes. They literally, as you'll see here in a second with the map I'm about to show you, they literally want to shove you in these little, tiny apartments that they're going to dictate where you get to live.

Part of the brainwashing is that if you got this and I'm going like, "Who in the ... This is so anti-American." But if you will, those shows like Tiny Homes or whatever and those people that buy this, and they're just so proud of that. I just, "Look at this. I can fit at a family of eight in 300 square feet."

Are you kidding me? Man, we would have some serious family discussions if we were locked into that. In fact, you know my wife and I, we never argue. We just have intense moments of fellowship. But are you kidding me? But you know they literally want to put you in these little boxes. Little boxes. And they're brainwashing a whole new generation to think it's great. We're going to save the planet because we've got too big of a carbon print. It's all brainwashing to get them to control.

No more paved or tarred roads because that ruins the planet. You can't have railroads or floor or wall tiles. Technology. You can't have it on your own. We'll dictate all that stuff. Range lands, fish ponds, plantations. Any area of you to be self-sustaining, you can't have that. Harvesting timber. You got to save the trees. And hunting. Nope. You can't do that. Logging activities, dams, reservoirs, straightening of rivers, power line construction. Nope. No more of that. In fact, watch this. They not only want to control your birth, as you saw in the previous video, they're going to control your death. They're conditioning people, it's your patriotic duty to let them pull the plug on you because you're costing the system too much. I'm not joking. Here's another commercial from Agenda 21. This is nuts.

Agenda 21 Commercial 1

Narrator: Every year, millions of imperfect babies are born, destined for a life of struggle into hardship. But it is the rest of us who pay the ultimate cost. Billions of dollars that could be used to better society are instead wasted on the malformed. There must be a better way. And there is. Agenda 21 is coming soon.

Agenda 21 Commercial 2

Woman 1: The Earth just cannot handle the sheer number of humans who live here. Something has to give. And I believe that it's up to us who have lived a good life to make sure that our children will have the opportunity to live good lives too. I have lived a good life.

Woman 2: I have lived a good life.

Woman 3: I have lived a good life.

Man: I have lived a good life.

Billy Crone: Yep. Lived a good life, and now according to Agenda 21, now changed to the Great Reset, it's your patriotic duty to let them pull the plug on you, because you're old. Or if you got deformities, you're costing the system too much and we're going to now dictate not only your birth, but we're going to dictate your death. This is what's coming. I mean really, what they would want us to do, let's sing happy birthday to Nathan. Yay. All right, let's take you out back and shoot you. You registered, that was your own fault at olddude.com. We got you on the record.

This is sick, man. This is what these guys want to do, folks. And what? It's a satanically inspired system. Listen, Satan, John chapter 8 Jesus said two characteristics. He's not just a liar and the father of all lies, this is a lie. That's setting up the planet for the system. And he's a what? He's a murderer. And he's been one from the beginning. That's where this spirit of murder and depopulate, the world is not overpopulated.

How many of you guys flew on a plane out here? I don't know about you guys, but when you're on a plane, this is a really cool experiment if you want to test this overpopulation thing. Whatever you do, look out the window. Have you ever flown on a plane, you look out the window? Man, that's all there is, is open space. Are you kidding me? It's a lie there's overpopulation. They show like overpopulation, and then they show downtown New York City. Well, yeah, that's crowded. Oh overpopulation, the planet is going to blow up. We got to control your birthing process. And they show yeah, downtown in China, Beijing or something like that.

Hello? Get on a plane. There's so much land available. It's a lie. It's a murderous, satanic lie to get people to go on with this new religion. We got to have these elites control this mindset. Now, they've actually mapped it out, specifically, even here for the United States. I don't know if you guys ever came across this, but it's been on the books for quite some time. It's called the Biodiversity Treaty, and here's the actual map. Now, let me explain to you the map, because it's color coded for a reason. Basically, you can see the red and yellow areas is open. That's only where the animals get to live. The blue, which is you can see is mainly shoved all the way to the east coast is where people get to live. They literally, as you can see there, it's called the wildlife project, UN. Again, this is part of the deal. They want to turn America back into literally, a gigantic animal preserve to go wild again. And they will dictate in our small little, tiny houses where we get to-- It's all a setup, folks, where we get to live. This is all in the books. It's been on the books for a while. It's called the Biodiversity Treaty. Now, look at that. The United States of America is a pretty big country. But if you turn that much back into a wild preserve and let it literally go wild. The red is where the animals are. The yellows are what's called buffer zones. Nobody can enter. So basically all red and yellow areas is just hands off to humans. So that's the bulk of the United States, is going back to wild animals. Wild bears and wolves and all that kind of stuff and whatever else they want to introduce.

Now what's crazy, if they pull this off, it starts to remind me of this verse. I'm going, "Oh, maybe that's why it's mentioned there in the seven year Tribulation, how people die." Revelation 6:8. I looked in there before me was what? A pale horse. And its rider was named death and Hades was following close behind him. And they were given power over a fourth of the earth to kill how? By sword, by famine, by plague and the what? Wild beasts of the earth. That's not a big threat. I mean, we got them all in zoos, right? There's hardly any left. Not if these guys have their way, including the United States of America. There's going to be wild animals all over the place.

And by the way, when that famine hits, not only people are going to get hungry, animals are going to get hungry, and they're going to be everywhere if these guys have their way. It's crazy, but you put all this together. You call it Agenda 21, Biodiversity Treaty. All this stuff has been just like the World Bank, the World Trade. They've been working on it. They've been brainwashing people. They made a religion out of it. Let's save the planet. That's why we got to let these elites dictate everything. And they have gone and they continue to do, even recently, to what last vestiges of land, and real estate, and economics, and food supply. They have bought up, behind the scenes with their billions and billions of dollars. And to let you know just how close they're getting, this is why recently of all things for him to purchase, Bill Gates is going out there buying up farmland, which you need for food. They want to control the food supply. But watch this.

Video

Narrator: Bill Gates has been snatching up 242,000 acres of farmland across the US. Enough to make him the top private farmland owner in America. According to the Land Report, the tech billionaire has been purchasing agricultural land for years, building a massive portfolio of farmland in 18 states. His largest holdings are more than 69,000 acres in Louisiana, almost 48,000 acres in Arkansas, and about 20,500 acres in Nebraska. Additionally, he has a stake in 25,750 acres of traditional land in Phoenix, Arizona. It's not clear how Gates' farmland is being used or whether any of the land is being set aside for conservation.

Billy Crone: For control. This has been going on for years and he's not the only elite doing this. I don't know about you, but I don't trust that guy with a 10 foot pole. Anything he does, let alone, why are you buying up farmland? Again, because it's all about control. If they own the land, they own all property, you're going to be stuck on the East Coast, in their tiny house. Having intense moments of fellowship. But not only that, I'm telling you these guys behind the scenes, most people, if you get on the finances, see who owns what. These guys have got it narrowed down. They almost own all the world's real estate, the food supply, and I'm not joking, literally everything on the planet. They've been carefully, meticulously buying it all up. Watch this. This is mind blowing.

Video

Narrator: So, BlackRock and Vanguard own everything. And I mean everything. So for example, you can find all of this on Yahoo Finance. Go there, type in a company, look at the ownership breakdown. This is Pepsi. Vanguard. BlackRock. State Street. This is Coca-Cola. These are the food brands they own. I'm telling you, just go to Yahoo Finance and look it up. They own Twitter. They own Facebook. They own Alphabet, which is the parent company at Google and YouTube. They own Apple. They own Microsoft. They are enormous investors in Android. So Apple and Android, both owned by them. They own IBM. They own Intel. They own all the software companies and computer companies that you would look at social media on, which they own the social media companies.

They own the travel booking companies. They own the airplane companies. They own Shell. They own BP. They own Exxon. They own the mining companies that we use, and they own the metals. They own the agricultural industry and the machines used to harvest that agriculture. They own big pharma. They own the banks. So, they hold your money. They also own Visa. They own MasterCard. They own practically everything. They work closely with the federal government, giving them loans and grants. They own the media you watch: CBS, NBC, CNN, HBO, TNT, Starz.

And feel free to fact check me. Go to Yahoo Finance, type in these company and look at the top four, five stockholders. You will find Vanguard and BlackRock and sometimes Berkshire Hathaway at the top every time. The more companies you type in, the more this is going to freak you out. So, who invests in Vanguard and BlackRock? And who does Vanguard and BlackRock invest their money into? The Clintons, the Bushes, the Obamas, Schiff, Pelosi, Schumer, McConnell.

And so, when you go to look up who owns Vanguard, it's private. It's where it gets tricky because these people like to keep a low profile. The Orsini family, the Bush Foundation and the Bush family. And both of them are Skull and Bones alum from Yale, if you want to go hopping down that rabbit hole. That's a whole other story. The Royal family. Some of the other names I'm sure you've heard of, are the Rockefellers, the Rothschilds, the Vanderbilt family. And if you look closely, who is that? Anderson Cooper, Mr. CNN.

These two companies along with State Street and Berkshire Hathaway make roughly 86% of the money in the world. And maybe next time when CNN is pushing a Pfizer vaccine, people are like, "Oh, I don't know if I want to take that." And Facebook and Twitter and Instagram are fact checking that and censoring people and doctors that speak out against it. Think twice and then think one more time. These people do not care about you or I, they care about themselves.

Billy Crone: And they care about owning everything, because that's what you got to do if you're going to implement your new religion. Where these elites are going to control, not just the economy, but literally where you get to live, what you get to eat, how many kids. It's nuts, folks. That's what they've been doing behind the scenes as we're all distracted. And dare I say, unfortunately, the Church is not only complying, but keeping their mouth shut about it. And we need to be sounding the alarm.

But let me give you one more thing. Just even recently, you're thinking, "Well, I'm not going to go along with that. They're going to control me and get me used to--they dictate my income and what I get." Listen, a lot of people are saying right now that this whole COVID thing on top of the other things that it's getting us conditioned to, with these global elites is it's conditioning us to submit to what's called a UBI or a universal basic income. Which is part of their goal. That they are going to dictate our income.

And this will be universal. Doesn't matter what you do, or they say you get to do, you're going to get a universal income from these guys. And again, that's the tradeoff. You'll own nothing, but you'll be happy, because they'll make sure you have a universal basic income. And this is being pushed by elites like Elon Musk, Mark Zuckerberg, Bill Gates, the same crowd. They're saying we need to officially now, they already own everything basically, we need to get people to receive a universal basic income. Now, if you're not familiar with that idea, it's been around for a while. They're now ready to pull it off because of these so-called COVID, I don't even call it crisis, it's a plandemic. But let's take a look at what is a universal basic income. Let's take a look at that.

Video

Narrator: Universal Basic Income is pretty much what the name suggests. An income for everyone in the form of a cash transfer. No strings attached. Finland is among a handful of countries experimenting with Universal Basic Income as a way to address unemployment in the country. A key feature of the Universal Basic Income is that you can spend the money however you like.

The idea of handing out cash to every citizen isn't new. Philosopher Thomas Paine proposed the idea of payments to every person, all the way back in 1797. Martin Luther King Jr. fought for a guaranteed income in the 1960s. And even free market champion, Milton Friedman endorsed the negative income tax, similar to basic income, as a way to redo use welfare costs and bureaucracy.

But lately, tech titans in Silicon Valley like Elon Musk and Mark Zuckerberg are some of the biggest advocates of the idea. Other advocates say a basic income would alleviate poverty and help address growing income inequality across the developed world. The idea has support across the political spectrum from libertarians who say it would simplify the existing social welfare state to socialists who want to redistribute wealth toward the lower and middle class.

Finland isn't the only country experimenting with Universal Basic Income. Other trials are underway in the Netherlands, Kenya, Canada, and the United States.

Billy Crone: Which means it is coming here. And you go, "We're never going to go along that. We're Americans. Patriotic, self-sufficient. You can't tell us." Listen, folks. I'm telling you, they brainwash us with two things. Number one, the media and the secular educational system. You look at the average Millennial on down coming out of school system and what they want? They're not only anti-American, anti-patriotic, but they what? They got this socialism. What's socialism? That's the new word for communism, which is basically what these guys want to bring in. And they cry out for it. And they have this entitlement mentality. You owe me. The government. They're happy to let the government dictate in whatever.

But again, they're using the COVID plandemic to get even us non-socialists used to having the government take care of our every need. Even this guy, which I don't think he's a Christian, he even sees it. Watch this.

Video

Narrator: Today I want to share with you something that Congress is proposing, because there's a few ideas out on the floor that look and sound very similar to a concept called UBI. And if you're not familiar with what that is, it stands for Universal Basic Income. Now the Cares Act has given people a onetime cash payment of up to $1,200. Can you imagine what Andrew Yang must be feeling like right now? Freedom dividends.

But a lot of people are still waiting for their stimulus checks with most agreeing that it's simply not enough money to keep their life going. In order to continue stimulating, Congress will be voting today once more on another bill that proposes an additional $300 billion for the Paycheck Protection Program. So it looks like this one will be passed. And the idea of UBI or Universal Basic Income is not that farfetched.

In fact, right now there's a few plans to add to a potentially phase four of the Stimulus Package Plan. And one of them involves forgiving all rent and mortgage payments. Yeah. Don't even worry about paying your mortgage or your rent, we got this. The whole stimulus narrative is bringing us closer and closer to what seems like the inevitable solution, where every American is going to be entitled to a basic standard form of income, regardless of whether or not they have a job. Believe it or not, the Pope himself, Pope Francis has even called for Universal Basic Income.

Billy Crone: Turn to somebody and say, "Shocker." All right. Just in time apparently to introduce the Antichrist himself, Mr. False Prophet wannabe. He's always along with this one world economy, he's been calling for one world government, he's all part of it. But as you guys can see, there's way more going on with this virus than what we thought. Why? Because you create a crisis, you can manage the outcome. They've had the machinery in place. Unfortunately, the mindset's been working, unfortunately, on people, even here in the United States of America, they brainwash whole new generations coming up in power beneath us. And they're falling for it. But what's the trigger event? Okay, well, how are we going to implement? People are more apt to surrender their freedoms in a time of fear than in peace. They know that. Unfortunately, we've done that. But it's all here. But that leads us to the third way. And that is the mechanism. Do they have the mechanism? Oh, by the way, this is LA. LA, if you look at that, they are now experimenting with, they want to give the Universal Basic Income to the whole city. So again, that's how far it is. It's not a farfetched idea. It's spreading, unfortunately. But the mechanism. Do they have the mechanism to pull it off? You got the machinery, you got the big underpinnings foundation. But what you're talking about in Revelation 13 is literally micromanaging the planet to every single transaction. I mean, how are you going to tie all that together? Every person, every product. Do they have that? Yeah, they do. But let's go back to that text and remind yourselves what that is going to do this system.

Revelation 13:16-17. He also forced how many? Everyone, the whole planet in the seven year Tribulation, small and great, rich and poor, free and enslaved to receive a mark, where? On his right hand or on his, where? Head. So on your arm, head. Your two options where it's going to go. So that, who? No one could buy or sell, unless he had the mark, which is the name of the beast or the number of his name.

And so, think about this. The false prophet, Antichrist, this is really going to happen. Prophesized 2,000 years ago, roughly, in the seven year Tribulation, they literally are just going to be controlling, not just the world economy, but they're going to micromanage it all the way down to the individual and the individual's transaction abilities and capabilities, what you can buy and sell.

They've already got the machinery in place. They got the mindset. Unfortunately, people are being duped all over the world to go on with this. But people are saying, "Well, wait a second. If you're going to literally micromanage, then you got another step you need to make." And I think that's just common sense. You need to develop some sort of a universal currency. And not just the universal currency, one that will be accepted around the globe, and so it will run seamlessly. But to help that you need something that's electronic or cashless. And I think that's common sense because as we just saw, you can't buy and sell without this mark on your right hand or your forehead. And so, I don't think that what people are going to be doing in the seven year Tribulation is they're going to tape a dollar bill to the right hand. "Hey, okay, here you go." They're not going to tape $20 or glue it on their forehead. "Okay."

So, this tells you common sense based on the text, it's got to be some sort of an electronic transaction being controlled on a global basis. But in order for that to happen, we have to literally go to a cashless society. And I don't know about you, but I'm so glad we see zero signs of that happening. We're already there, man. And again, just like the machinery, just like the mindset they've been working on decades, the same thing, tricking us to go to a cashless society has been working on for a while. Let me break down that process for you.

First of all, used to be just cash and then they came out back in the day with these things called checks. Man, that was amazing. If you didn't have the cash on you, what could you do? Boy, you could just write a check. And that was just, man, what an invention that was. But hey, wait a second. If you didn't have the money to write that check and you didn't want it to bounce, the rubber check thing that people do. You know what they came out with? It was amazing. It was called a credit card. You could charge it and then pay later. It bought you time. And then we got used to that. But hey, wait a second. I don't know about you, but I don't want to pay that interest on that credit card. So then they came out with remember those? ATM cards. Remember when those first came out? And it's like, "Wow, I can take it directly out of my checking account. I don't have to pay interest, but it's like a credit card. It's awesome. And I don't need to mess with cash."

Oh, and then not only long after that, then debit card overtook credit card spending. And then they said, "You know what? We need to make this more sophisticated." They came out with these things called smart cards. And so basically it would combine the credit card, the ATM card, except this one's got a what? A microchip in it. And this one could do amazing things. It could store information, it could track you. It could also make financial transactions. But then again, okay, well that's on the outside of you. Let's remember, it's going to go biometrically. It's going to go in the hand or the forehead. So, we got to take that next conditioning step.

Well then it transferred to another payment system that we just happened to carry in the hand. And that was with the cell phone. And the cell phone, man, this is great. I could just tap with my hand, with my cell phone in hand. I can make payments and all that stuff. And right now, folks,

I'm telling you, this is the rage. And again, from the same ones that be and brainwash to go along with this Great Reset, this is their life. Cash is out. And it's been out for a long time. Watch this report.

Video

Reporter: When Brianne Kimmel gets ready to go in the morning, cash is not in the equation.

Brianne Kimmel: I think the last time I went to an ATM was two years ago.

Reporter: She streamlined her wallet to credit cards only. Cash, she feels, is inconvenient and dangerous.

Brianne Kimmel: There's a lot of times where I think if I had a lot of cash on me, I'd be a little bit anxious.

Reporter: Between 2000 and 2015, non-cash payments in the US grew by almost 400%.

Brianne Kimmel: That is $3.38 for you.

Reporter: Okay.

Brianne Kimmel: I haven't really needed cash, to be honest. It's either my credit card or if I'm out with friends, I'll use Venmo.

Reporter: Venmo, the mobile app where people can pay each other on a smartphone now processes $2 billion a month. This year, Apple added similar payment capabilities in iMessage. These free services are so popular, 30 major banks recently launched a competing product called Zelle. Doing away with paper money has been a big boom for small businesses, too.

Bozzelli: Hi, what would you like to order?

Customer: Chicken Parm.

Reporter: Washington's family-run Italian chain, Bozzelli's, has been in business for five decades. At their newly open downtown location, they've taken a radical step to remain competitive. No more cash. If you want to buy your lunch here, you'll have to pay with plastic.

Billy Crone: In the United States of America. This is what's going on, folks. Slowly, but surely, like a frog in a pot being warmed up even to this aspect. And it isn't just younger generations preferring to go cashless. Now what's the next trend? It's businesses giving, that's your only option. And then with the pandemic, "Well, there's germs on cash and you can't do that." So, it's just another excuse to make that complete switch over whether you want to or not.

But again, you think, "Well, that's just the United States. That's too bad. It's too bad. It's going to take forever for this to catch on worldwide." Right now, and this has been in play for a couple years now, Sweden right now is 99% cashless. A whole country. First time in the history of mankind. Watch this. This is crazy.

Video

Speaker 1: In Sweden, almost all transactions are done digitally. Notes and coins are a thing of the past. And Sweden is leading the race to become the first completely cashless economy.

Speaker 2: Sweden is the king of the card. There's not much you can't buy with a bank card these days. In fact, many shops don't take cash at all. When was the last time you used cash?

Speaker 3: The last time I used cash was maybe the last year in the summer.

Speaker 4: People talk about when will Sweden be cashless? For me, I've been living in a cashless society for five years. I haven't used cash for five years.

Speaker 5: The banks, they've stopped handling cash. Did you know that? The biggest banks in Sweden, they stopped handling cash.

Speaker 1: Sweden is fast becoming one of the most cashless places in the world. So much so that banks won't handle your cash. In fact, it's hard to find any business that'll take it. You have to pay with card or with a mobile app on your phone. The most common of which is Swish, which was built by the banks.

Speaker 6: Many of the shops don't take cash. So you have to have cards.

Speaker 1: By value, barely 1% of all transactions in Sweden involve cash. And if the amount of cash in circulation continues to decline at its current rate, the country could be completely cashless by 2025.

Billy Crone: Just in time for the seven year Tribulation. A whole country. For the first time man's history, a whole country. We ain't using cash. It's not aberration. It's not just a trend for younger folks. Now you go in that country, that's all that they operate on. But again, you think, "Okay, well that's United States, England." I don't have time to get into like China and some of those other countries. They're way further ahead than we are on this aspect.

But wait a second. What about those, because the context is Mark of the Beast, Revelation 13, global. What about all those other countries like some of those smaller countries in Africa, or Peru, or Nigeria. I mean, that's going to take forever for them to catch up. It's already happening, thanks again to the cell phone. The cell phone allows even indigenous countries to go along with this cashless society. Watch this.

Video

Reporter: Days of overstuffed wallets in your back pocket or purse might soon come to an end. By 2020, mobile wallets on our smartphones are expected to surpass the use of credit and debit cards in the US. That has already happened in China. Ben Tracy is in Beijing to show us what a nearly cashless society actually looks like. Ben, good morning.

Ben Tracy: Good morning. So when I moved here to China a couple of months ago, I kept getting funny looks every time I would pull cash out of my wallet to pay for things. And then I got one of these. It's a code on my phone, and now I can basically buy anything here in China. When you pay for something, how do you pay for it?

Speaker 3: Mobile phone.

Ben Tracy: On the streets of Beijing, cash is definitely not king. What do you think of people who use cash to pay for things?

Speaker 4: "That's rare and weird," he says. Only the elderly people who don't know how to use a phone pay cash.

Ben Tracy: So, if you were looking to buy a coffee a couple years ago here in London, it might have been normal to ask the question, do you take cards? Now that question is increasingly becoming, do you take cash?

Speaker 5: We probably have customers here now that don't even know or don't accept cash because they just tap their card and go.

Ben Tracy: Ross Brown stopped accepting cash at his London cafe more than a year ago after a trip to Sweden, where he said paper money was nowhere to be found.

Reporter: From groceries to bus fares to fuel. You don't get far without a handful of cash. Have you ever imagined a world without it? Using just these and this. Tanzanian tech expert, Jones and Ruche, believes we should all move to digital payments. The challenge right now is that hardly any Tanzanians have bank accounts or credit cards, but they do have mobile money. Financial transactions run over the phone network. Jones is one of a group of campaigners and they say mobile money gives East Africa a unique opportunity to get ahead of the rest of the world.

Only 29% of Peruvians have bank accounts. One of the lowest levels of use of financial services in Latin America. To bring in people in places like [foreign], eMoney promoters had to look at the kind of transactions people use in their everyday life. They found that no matter how humble the person or remote the area, cellular phones were ubiquitous.

Mobile phones are the great leveler in Peru. There's at least one for every person in the country. And most people use prepay, where you go to the shop and buy your credit over the counter. And the eWallet works in much the same way. BIM, the Spanish initials for mobile wallet, is a bank account on your phone. And you don't need a smartphone to send and receive money. In fact, you don't even need a bank account, just a four digit key.

You walk around Delhi, and you find signs for these digital payment platforms everywhere. PayTM, Samsung, MobiKwik, just to name a few.

The number of digital transactions in India have quadrupled since November of last year. Welcome news to a government on a mission to reduce India's reliance on cash.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi: The 500 rupee and thousand rupee currency notes presently used will no longer be legal tender.

Reporter: Prime Minister Narendra Modi pulled nearly 90% of bank notes from circulation last year. One thing is clear, that historic shakeup's been a big food to India's digital economy.

Speaker 6: Paying without cash is fast becoming the norm.

Speaker 7: I pay even tiny amounts with my card.

Speaker 8: It's just easier.

Speaker 9: It's becoming easier and easier.

Speaker 10: Will cash soon be a thing of the past?

Speaker 11: When I think about it, I pay more without cash than with.

Speaker 12: We cannot use cash money anymore.

Speaker 13: Around the world, financial corporations, politicians, and leading economists are working to do away with cash.

Speaker 14: I'd see a future where you will be able to hold digital Euro, digital dollars directly at the Central Bank.

Speaker 15: Who stands to profit from a world without money? And who will be the losers?

Billy Crone: Ooh, the spirit of Arnold Horshack is all over me. Ooh, Ooh. Let me answer that. The losers will be the people who have rejected Jesus Christ, their Lord and savior He left behind in the seven year Tribulation. And they're going to have to deal with accepting a cashless Mark of the Beast system payment. And the Bible says, if you take that mark, you're doomed straight to Hell.

The winners, of course in this system is the Great Reset folks that's leading to the Antichrist and the false prophet. And this is what's being put into place as we see here. Now, a couple things that they're missing though, that has recently have changed. There's only one problem with the cell phone that has the microchip. What can happen with it? Just like the card, you could lose it. What could happen? You could lose your cell phone. Oh no. And then what are you going to do?

Well, what if you took that same microchip that's in that phone and just put it into your body. There's microchipping parties going on right now in Sweden because they're already almost cashless anyway. So the next step is, they're paying with their microchips, with their hand. This has been going on for several years. They're having microchipping parties.

And even here in the United States, the whole piercing industry, tattoo industry, this is what they're promoting for the younger generations. Now you want to get a microchip, a biometric implant so that you can start your car, open your house, do all these things and make payments. Because it's all about convenience. But if you notice there's one other thing too, that you still have to have a banking account. Well, wait a second. You just saw some countries. Crazy. Vietnam, Peru, everybody's in on this. But they said there's still a bunch of people who don't have a bank account or access. How are you going to fix that? This is the big news, folks. Most people don't get this behind cryptocurrency. Cryptocurrency isn't just a new currency. Cryptocurrency allows for the first time in man's history, anybody on the planet, whether you could ever even think of getting a bank account, cryptocurrency allows you to be tied into the global system. Watch this. This is crazy.

Video Cryptocurrency

Narrator: When we buy or sell things, the payment is usually processed by a bank or credit card company. Problem number one, the companies often take a cut of the transaction. Two, we have to trust these companies to protect their sensitive data from hackers. Three, most international payments take a long time and are expensive.

To solve these problems, we could use a special currency that is secure and based on science of cryptography, which is a way of protecting information using mathematics. This special type of currency is called a cryptocurrency and only exists in computer networks. When you send someone this special currency, the money goes directly to them, removing the middleman. And at the same time, the transaction's broadcast to the entire network and recorded in a permanent way, which means it's almost impossible to fool the system.

Costs of making payments are lower, transactions are faster, especially across countries. And even those people around the globe who don't have bank accounts can buy or sell goods and participate in the global economy. This new technology, or some variation of it, can completely change the way we sell, buy, save, invest, and pay our bills. And who knows, this could be the next step in the evolution of money.

Billy Crone: And the evolution of ultimately the nail in the coffin for the Mark of the Beast system. As you pay attention to what they said, you got to understand what's going on with the cryptocurrency. And it's just now finally getting accepted and taking off. I wonder why? But what did she say there? This new electronic digital currency can, what? It's the new universal payment system, regardless of country, company, organization, location, ethnic group, anybody can use it and do what? Quote, "Buy and sell, save, invest, pay bills. All your financial needs, no matter who you are, where you are, you can finally be connected to this global system." And you know where that's headed. This is crazy. It's all being set into place. And if you don't believe that that's what these guys ultimately want to do, it's a conditioning process versus cash, then checks, then ATMs, credit cards, smart cards, phones.

Again, you could lose that phone. And how many guys already know in our big brother society that your phone is the biggest big brother tracking device ever invented in the history mankind?

And we pay for it. And if you're like some of us, when we start talking, we shove the thing in the seat underneath the couch because they're watching and listening on that device at any time they want.

But not only that, if you don't want somebody to know where you're at, what do you do? You leave that phone at home. Don't take it with you because it's a tracking device. Well they know this too. So how do you make sure that somebody's got a microchip with them wherever they go that ties into the system? You put it into their body. And if you don't believe me that that's what these Great Reset bankers guys, global elites are planning, Aaron Russo blew the lid off of this and admitted this is what Rockefeller told them they were going to do. It was going to get reduced down to a microchip, specifically put into people's bodies across the globe, so that if you didn't do what these guys said, they'll shut your chip off. Watch this. He admitted it.

Video

Aaron Russo: As far as our system, the bankers, have pretty much taken control of our government. It doesn't matter Republican and Democrat anymore because they're both the same. Neither one of them are talking about the big issues that face Americans. So I had a friend, Nick Rockefeller, who was one of the Rockefeller family. And when I was running for governor in Nevada, he came to me, introduced himself to me through an attorney, and we became friends. We started talking about things and I learned an awful lot from Mr. Rockefeller.

And one of the things that we used to talk about was the ultimate plan of the banking industry, what they wanted to accomplish. And the goals of the banking industry, not just the Federal Reserve System, but the private banks in Germany and England, all over Italy, all over the world, they all work together. They're all central banks, and they're all part of the communist manifesto.

Central banking is one of the major planks of the communist manifesto. We talk about America being a capitalistic country, but yet at the same time, we have a central bank that plans everything for us. And the graduated income tax is another plank of the communist manifesto. So right there, you have two major planks in the communist manifesto, they've been brought in because of the Federal Reserve System.

So, the ultimate goal that these people have in mind is the goal to create a one world government run by the banking industry, run by the bankers, and they're doing it in sections. The European currency, the Euro and the European constitution is one part of it. Now they're trying to do it in America with the North American Union. And they want to create a new currency called the Amero. And the whole agenda is to create a one world government where everybody has an RFID chip implanted in them. All money is to be in those chips. There'll be no more cash.

And this is given to me straight from Rockefeller themselves, so this is what they want to accomplish. And all money will be in your chips. And so instead of having cash, anytime you have money in your chip, they can take out whatever they want to take out whenever they want to. If they say you owe us this much money in taxes, they just deduct it out of your chip digitally.

Speaker 2: Total control.

Aaron Russo: Total control. And if you're like me or you and you're protesting what they're doing, they can just turn off your chip and you have nothing. You can't buy food, you can't do anything. It's total control of the people.

Billy Crone: Which the last time I checked sounds exactly like this warned about 2,000 years ago. He forced everyone small and great, rich and poor, free and enslaved to receive a mark on his right hand or his forehead so that no one could, what? Buy or sell unless you have that mark. You don't do what they say, they shut you off. Which is the name of the beast or the number of his name.

Let's go back to the Great Reset. That was warned about many years ago. Rockefeller, who's a part of the Great Reset crowd. Maybe it's just an isolated case. Maybe that was just Rockefeller, whatever. And these global elitist, that's not their plan. That was just Rockefeller. No.

Mr. Klaus Schwab, as you saw, Dr. Evil petting his cat last night. He is the founder and the head of the World Economic Forum, the Great Reset, folks. He admitted that their goal is to not just buy up everything, control everything. They'll own it all and we'll somehow be happy. But the goal is this final thing. They need to tie us all together into this global matrix that's controlling everything including buying and selling. Specifically with a microchip. And he admitted, this is their plan with the Great Reset that we're going to not just microchip what you buy and sell, we're going to microchip you. As his words are, they're going to merge with this Great Reset, the biological with the digital world. He admitted on an interview. You can't say we weren't warned. Watch this.

Billy Crone: 2016, 10 years, that's 2026, he said what the Great Reset is all about. His words, not mine. Not a conspiracy theory. These guys tell you what to do if you do your homework. He said, we're not only going to put chips on you, wearables, all products, but we want to what? And notice he gave the two options. We're going to microchip you person to connect you to that system in the brain or in a body part, which I'm kind of thinking probably rhymes with the right hand.

This is not by chance, folks. This is really what they are. And as we close, I've just got to share this with you. This is getting so obvious that this is the Mark of the Beast System that is literally being laid before our very eyes, that gets implemented in the seven year Tribulation, that even sometimes, sometimes the News actually admits it. And what I'm about to show you, as far as I know, these guys aren't even Christians, but even they can get that this is the Mark of the Beast System that the Bible warned about 2,000 years ago. Watch this. This is crazy.

Speaker 1: So many economists believe the future will be cash free. You're already seeing it from everywhere you go. Whether it's your baseball game or to your local deli. Now Sweden is getting there even faster than anyone else, according to a "New York Times" report. And 4,000 Swedes, now get this, have microchips implanted in their hands so they can pay for products with just a wave of their hand. Ah, makes the Apple watch kind of look obsolete.

So, on top of that, many Swedish companies are asking their employees to get implants to pass through access points and to pay for conveniences. Now the red flags start going up. So for our red flags, we have to turn to legal media analyst, Lionel. Lionel, thanks for joining us on this. I know you've got some red flags and I feel like I'm reading out the book of Revelation possibly.

Lionel: Absolutely.

Speaker 1: So, what concerns come to you, arise from humans microchipping themselves?

Lionel: This is the Mark of the Beast. Listen, no, no. Let me tell you something. I mean, I'm no biblical scholar here, but it's amazing the parallels made. Now, listen, let's get down to brass tacks. I wish they'd stop with this. They go, "We're going cashless." We've been cashless. Where's this cash. Ever buy a house with cash or a car? We've got this. I don't even have, I got a couple of bucks. We've been cashless. But that's not the issue.

One of these days, these kids, these, I think you call them Millennials or something, they're going to take these little, tiny RFID, radio frequency identification chip, about the size of a grain of rice. And they're going to be cool, Scotty. Oh, they're going to be waiting in line overnight to get implanted. And they're going to say, "Look at this. I can go to the drug store. I can go to a cab. Isn't this great? How cool am I?" Look, I've got this little embedded chip. And they'll say they have medical records and you're going to do that to grandma and grandpa in case, God forbid, they have some kind of dementia, they're walking off. I mean after all, we have it in our dogs, right? It's like OnStar for human beings.

But here's the catch. One of these days, God forbid, Scotty, they find you guilty of something, and you go before court and they say, "We're going to sentence you to prison." No. "We're going to turn your chip off. And you don't exist." Poof.

Billy Crone: Even the secular News, if they're honest, see exactly where this is headed. And so, for you and I, obviously it's time to freak out, run to the hills, hide. No. That's why Jesus said, "Hey folks, this is a sign the Rapture is getting close." When these things begin to take place, man, you need to stand up, lift up your heads because your redemption is drawing near. That's all the way we need to translate this. It's not a time to be fearful. It's a time to be faithful. Jesus Christ is coming back to get us. We're not going to be a part of the Antichrist system, the seven year Tribulation. We're not going to have to deal with the Mark of the Beast. That's for the people in the seven year Tribulation. But it's getting close, and we leave prior, so we need to finish strong and get God's Word out. Share the Gospel to as many as we can.

We wouldn't want our worst enemy in that timeframe. And if you're here today, you're watching online, I don't know your heart, but God does. You can fool me, but you can't fool God. If you're not truly born again, you better get saved right now. You better take Jesus' offer to save you, to rescue you from the wrath that is coming. He's done it all for you. All you got to do is believe on the Lord, Jesus Christ. His work alone on the cross. The Bible says, if you confess Jesus is Lord, believe in your heart that God raised Him from the grave, you will be saved.

You need to do that because listen, if you're left behind, because you didn't receive Jesus Christ, as your Lord and Savior, and you could have right now, it's a free gift of eternal life, you'll be left behind. You'll be thrust into this Antichrist system. And can I tell you something? You won't be happy. It's going to be hell on earth. There will be weeping and gnashing of teeth. Don't make that mistake. Get saved today. Amen.

Let's pray. Father, we love you and thank you so much for our study today. Thank you for yet another sign that, boy, is it ever getting close. All the machinery's already in place. And now they've pulled the trigger on it with the plandemic. It's just a matter of time. So, help us as we, your people, to finish strong, to long for your appearing, and lead as many soul as we can to you, Jesus. That's why we're still here. But God, again, if there's anybody here watching online that's not saved, please save them. This is not a game. Rest their heart and mind. Have mercy on them, God, just like you did with me 28 years ago, and save them before it's too late. We ask all this in your wonderful name, in Jesus' name, and all God's people said, amen.
